SUMMARY

RESEARCH Earned a doctorate from the University of Oxford based on nine months of ethnographic fieldwork with insurgents during the 2011 Libyan uprising. Authored or co-authored over 50 publications (and translations) with 1,975 citations (Google Scholar). Secured over $1M in research funding since 2019 from Meta, SSHRC, DNDRI, Heritage Canada, and private donors. Co-founded the first Canadian research centre dedicated to building artificial intelligence tools to study social media's impact on conflict. Published two books with Oxford University Press (2015 and in press) and a special symposium in *International Interactions Journal (*2021). Published seven policy papers in the last three years, which have reached 130,000 readers. Completing a monograph with Cornell University Press.

TEACHING Twenty years of experience delivering professional training to international civil servants at the United Nations (UN) and other international organizations, such as the UN Staff College course "Conflict Analysis for Peacebuilding and Conflict Prevention" and "Engaging Non-State Armed Groups in the Field." Taught undergraduate and graduate courses on public policy, social media, and civil war at the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies (Switzerland) and the University of Regina (Canada). Consistently receive high marks from student evaluations.

WORK EXPERIENCE A fourteen-year career working in sixteen conflict-affected countries for the UN, The Carter Center, and the ICRC. Supported policy and research initiatives in over thirty-five countries across the Middle East, North Africa, West Africa, and South Asia. Directly negotiated with sixty non-state armed groups across Africa, Asia and Europe to advance humanitarian and research objectives.

WORK EXPERIENCE

ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR – DEPARTMENT OF POLITICS AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES
Regina, Canada

University of Regina (July 2019 – Present)

- Co-founded the Centre for Artificial Intelligence, Data, and Conflict (CAIDAC) in 2023 after securing funding from Meta (formerly Facebook), various government agencies, and private donors.
- Advanced a research program focused on artificial intelligence, conflict, and social media, with additional research streams on human-wildlife conflict, humanitarian negotiation, women's networks in civil wars, and civil war insurgents.
- Designed and delivered ten undergraduate courses within the first three years of teaching, receiving excellent feedback and reviews from students.

GLOBAL AFFAIRS ADVISER – GLOBAL AFFAIRS AND ARMED GROUP UNIT   Geneva, Switzerland

International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) (April 2015 – June 2019)

- Served as one of three advisors to the ICRC's Director General on humanitarian analysis and engagement with non-state armed groups.
- Supported fourteen delegations' conflict analysis and engagement with armed groups and their influencers. This usually involved interacting directly with key government interlocutors and members of armed groups in each context.
- Co-led, with Fiona Terry, a three-year research project funded by the UK DFID. The project involved six internationally renowned researchers (e.g., Prof E. Woods and Prof F. Sanin) and studied why some state and non-state armed groups exhibit restraint in armed conflict. Co-authored and published Roots of Restraint in War (June 2018).

VISITING LECTURER   Geneva, Switzerland

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies (August 2016 – September 2019)

- Developed and taught courses on humanitarian interventions in areas of conflict, analysis of armed groups, and humanitarian frontline negotiation skills.
- Incorporated full-day simulations into two courses to expose students to the dilemmas and challenges humanitarians face when negotiating with armed groups and state militaries.

DOCTORAL STUDENT   Oxford, UK

University of Oxford – Institute of Cognitive and Evolutionary Anthropology (September 2009 – April 2015)

- Part of a five-person drafting team that received a 3 million (GBP) grant from the UK Economic and Social Research Council to study how ritual shapes conflict and communities.
- Nominated Principal Investigator for a 90,000 EUR research grant with the Berghof Foundation that examined inception and social networks in armed groups in Libya.
- Advanced research on armed group cohesion, social network analysis, and conflict dynamics in Libya, Syria, and Myanmar.
- Represented the research team and the University of Oxford in a variety of government and academic fora, including international media interviews (e.g., BBC World News).

CONFLICT PREVENTION ADVISER   New York, USA

United Nations Development Programme–Bureau for Crisis Prevention and Recovery (Jan 2007-Aug 2009)

- Provided technical and programmatic advice to field staff in more than twenty-one country offices.
- Supported the design and implementation of conflict-prevention programs, and the drafting of knowledge products related to conflict analysis, peacebuilding, and insider mediation.
- Drafted speaking points for senior management on a range of topics, including country analysis, UN inter-agency initiatives, sexual violence trends, genocide prevention, and the Responsibility to Protect (R2P).

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR, CONFLICT RESOLUTION PROGRAM   Atlanta, USA

The Carter Center (February 2004 – December 2006)

- Served as one of four senior aides to former US President Jimmy Carter in his global peacemaking efforts. Work included drafting policy, conflict analysis, and speaking points.
- Served as desk officer for the Center's intervention in Nepal, focusing on the initiation, support, and analysis of peace negotiations between the Government of Nepal and Maoist insurgents.
- Supported the Center's International Council for Conflict Resolution, representing preeminent experts like Dr William Ury, Dr John Paul Lederach, and Lord Owen.

CONFLICT RESOLUTION PROGRAM MANAGER   Kibungo, Rwanda

International Rescue Committee (August 2001 – July 2002)

- Supported the Rwandan Unity and Reconciliation Commission by drafting a two-year strategic program and project proposal for USD 1.4 million, later funded by USAID, DFID, and the EU.
- Served as the conflict resolution technical advisor to the International Rescue Committee's USD 4.5 million Decentralization and Good Governance project.

CONFLICT RESOLUTION TRAINER AND PRACTITIONER Bosnia, Indonesia, East Timor, US, and Canada
Canadian Institute for Conflict Resolution (May 1996 – June 2001)

- Drafted and implemented, as part of a three-person team, a three-year USD 1.1 million inter-ethnic dialogue and conflict-resolution training program in Bosnia and Herzegovina.
- Served as technical advisor to Bishop Belo (Nobel Peace Prize Recipient) in the design and implementation of the East Timor all-party peace talks in 1999.
- Designed, developed, and led courses in mediation, facilitation, and community-based conflict.
- Led third-party interventions using multi-stakeholder dialogue processes to elicit and address long-standing conflicts in communities and organizations.
